MESSAGE

Himachal is the land of Devi- Devtas and as much as HRTC has been offering its bus services for connecting these holy sites, I am happy that for the first time they have consolidated this into an information booklet. Today we live in the digital age where information has to be readily available with the common consumers. What is interesting for me is that in this booklet the diversity which Himachal Pradesh offers for religious tourists is well brought out. Similarly, services to religious sites outside the state are also covered. I hope HRTC keeps improving the quality of service it offers to passengers. I would like to congratulate the HRTC management for taking this initiative. I would like to wish HRTC all the very best for the future.

MESSAGE

I am glad to know that HRTC has already been operating its bus services to almost all the religious destinations in and outside the state but due to non availability of information to the people, facility was not availed by the people specially tourists coming from outside the state. Now HRTC has started this booklet for the public information containing detail of services available to the religious places of state and outside the state with time schedule. I hope people will definitely get benefited from this initiative as this information is now available on all social media platforms. I hope that HRTC will keep this practice of providing best possible information to the public by all media in future too regarding the HRTC services, schemes, and reach. I express my compliments to the HRTC management and workers for their effort in providing better services to the people of the state by all best possible means.

Mukesh Agnihotri
Deputy Chief Minister
Himachal Pradesh.

CHINTPURNI

Chintpurni is a small town in the Una district of Himachal Pradesh about 40 km (25 miles) north of Una,

The legend behind this Shakti Peetha is part of the Shaktism tradition which tells the story of the self-immolation of the goddess Sati. Vishnu had to cut her body into 51 body parts, which fell on Earth and became sacred sites.

The Chinnamastika Devi is a divine embodiment of self-sacrifice and there by Mata Chintpurni ji is considered as a Shakti Peetha. It is believed that Charan (Feet) of Goddess Sati fell at this place.

SHRI CHAMUNDA JI

This ancient temple is said to have been constructed in the 16th century and has considerable spiritual legend attached to it. It is one of the most famous temples in India. The Chamunda Devi Temple has always been a tourist attraction for people who visit Kangra. The temple attracts travellers from all parts of India, not only because there are a lot of spiritual legends attached to it, but also because the temple is ancient and because of its Himachali architecture.

The ancient idol of Shri Chamunda Devi is a common subject of interest among travellers, photographers and devotees alike. Apart from the plenty of tourists who visit the Chamunda Devi Temple as a major tourist attraction A small temple named Jakhni Mata Mandir is situated on a hilltop that overlooks the valley. It is accessible by a short mountain drive.

TABO/DHANKAR/KAZA MONASTERY

Tabo Monastery – sometimes referred to as the Ajanta of the Himalayas – is the oldest earthen Buddhist monastery in the Himalayan region to have survived unchanged and comparatively well intact. It was established over 1,000 years ago. Today, the old temple site is made up of nine temples and several stupas, in addition to cave shrines along the mountain slope. The shrines are decorated with murals and are traditionally used for meditation. A new assembly hall, the Kalachakra Temple, was built for the first Kalachakra initiation carried out by His Holiness the 14th Dalai Lama in Tabo in 1983, and a Kalachakra stupa was inaugurated in 2009.

HARIDWAR

Haridwar is one of the seven sacred cities of the Hindus and is a major pilgrimage centre. It has been known by many names; originally it was called Kapila, for the sage who once lived there. Haridwar's chief object of pilgrimage is Har-ki-pauri – the bathing ghat, or steps, along the river – which has what believers consider to be a footprint of Vishnu impressed into a stone. Large numbers of pilgrims gather there annually at the beginning of the Hindu solar year in April; the Kumbh Mela (a Hindu religious festival) is held every 12th year in Haridwar. The Daksha Mahadev temple, another important pilgrimage site, lies 2 miles (3 km) downstream at Kankhal. Devout believers feel that they can go to heaven by getting their salvation after a dip in the sacred Ganga at Haridwar.
